

Why eat snacks?

Children's stomachs are smaller than adults'.
So they need to eat smaller quantities, more often.

At school, it's easier for children to concentrate if they've had enough to eat.

The role of snacks is to replenish energy.

The important thing is to respect the child's hunger. He'll have his snack if he needs it.